Messrs. JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO.'S

NEW BOOKS IN PRESS FOR EARLY PUBLICATION.

THREE BOOKS OF SONG.

A New Volume of Poetry. By HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW. 1 vol., 16mo. $2.00.

This volume contains, in the First Book, "Tales of a Wayside Inn, The Second Day," in the same vein with those Tales which made the volume entitled "The Wayside Inn," so popular; in the Second Book, a quite long poem, "Judas Maccabæus;" and in the Third Book, "A Handful of Translations."

OLRIG GRANGE.

A New Poem by a New Author. Edited by HERMANN KUNST. 16mo. $1.50. [Ready.]

"'OLRIG GRANGE' is plainly the work of a ripe student of life and nature. It has dramatic power of a quite uncommon class; satirical and humorous observation of a class still higher, a graceful and ingenious turn in playing that game of speculation with the data of modern thought which always makes a book stimulating for the modern mind to read; and finally a very pure and healthy moral atmosphere. The social insight and epigram of the little poem would have furnished forth several ordinary novel had they been turned to that service."—Pall Mall Gazette.

FABLES AND LEGENDS OF MANY COUNTRIES RENDERED IN

RHYME. By JOHN G. SAXE. 1 vol., 16mo. $1.50. [Ready.]

PANSIES.

A volume of Poems. By Mrs. A. D. T. WHITNEY, author of "Leslie Goldthwaite,"

"We Girls," etc. 1 vol. 16mo. $1.50. [Ready.]

"This volume is characterized by the same winning domestic sentiment, and the same tender religious feeling which have made her prose stories so popular. It is essentially a book which considerate fathers and mothers will be glad to introduce into their households."—Boston Globe.

CROSSING THE ATLANTIC.

A new volume of Sketches similar to and uniform with "Ups and Downs." By AUGUSTUS HOPPIN. 1 vol., oblong folio, ornamental covers. $5.00.

THE TRUE LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

From his Birth to his Inauguration as President of the United States. By WARD H. LAMON. 1 vol., 8vo. With numerous Illustrations, mostly Portraits. $5.00.

A New Volume, by Robert Browning.

FIFINE AT THE FAIR, AND OTHER POEMS.

By ROBERT BROWNING. 1 vol., 12mo. $2.00.

"This volume includes the poem which gives its name; "Prince Hohensteil-Schwangau, Saviour of Society;" "Herve Riel;" and "Balaustion's Adventure," which the London Times pronounces a garden of delight to those whose tastes have been educated to appreciate its theme."

BOSTON ILLUSTRATED.

A full, Descriptive and Pictorial Illustration of Boston and vicinity. With 150 new pictures. 50 cents.

"Boston Illustrated" will be vastly fuller and more attractive than any guide-book of Boston heretofore published, and will give, if not complete, yet a full picture and description of those scenes, objects and buildings by which the city is most adorned or distinguished.

BROKEN TOYS.

By ANNA C. STEELE. Seventh volume in Osgood's Library of Novels. 1 vol., 8vo, Paper, 75 cents; Cloth, $1.25.

"It is far too good to be ignored, and very far too good to serve as a target. It is thoroughly readable, and—as novels go—worth reading."—London Examiner.

ONLY THREE WEEKS.

An English story of rare interest. Osgood's Library of Novels. 1 vol., 8vo. Paper 75 cents; Cloth, $1.25.

CHOISY.

By JAMES P. STORY. Osgood's Library of Novels. 1 vol., 8vo. Paper, 75 cents; Cloth, $1.25.

"A Novel, whose opening scenes are laid in one of the sumptuous 'hells' of New York, but whose action soon shifts to Paris, where the hero tests thoroughly the beatific capacity of the 'city of pleasure.' The sketches of Paris life are graphic and vivid, and the entire action of the story is exceptionally spirited."—Appleton's Journal.

THACKERAY'S WORKS.

Kensington Edition. Illustrated. In 12 vols., 8vo. $2.00 each.

An entirely new edition, containing Thackeray's Novels and Miscellanies, newly arranged. A most desirable edition for libraries.

Half page.....	12.00.
Quarter page.....	7.00.
Eighth page.....	4.00.
Short Advertisements, per line.....	.20.

Special Terms for front, back, and second page, and first page after editorial matter.

Subscribers are entitled to one insertion, without charge, of full business card, with request for, or offer of, Catalogues, Price Lists, and Circulars.

Situations Wanted. Free insertion of five lines; 15 cents for every exceeding line.

Rare or Second-hand Books for Sale or Exchange, 15 cents per line; to subscribers, 10 cents per line.

Advertisements should reach the office of the Trade Circular not later than Tuesday morning, but are required as much earlier as possible.

NOTICE.

Subscribers who have not yet paid their subscriptions, and subscribers to the late AMERICAN LITERARY GAZETTE, whose subscription has expired, if they wish to continue the WEEKLY TRADE CIRCULAR, are respectfully requested to remit the amounts due, either by post-office order, or draft on New York. Small accounts should be paid promptly, as they will neither bear the trouble nor the expense of repeated applications. Subscriptions should invariably be paid in advance.

The Publishers and their "Weekly."

"If publishers," says Robert Clarke of Cincinnati, "would devote half the amount they expend in circulars, and the postage on them, which is a large item, to sustaining a weekly trade journal and extending its circulation, they would double the benefit received from the expenditure."

Advance Sheets.

THE WEEKLY TRADE CIRCULAR is mainly a literary and trade NEWSPAPER. Its special aim is to guide dealers in making up their orders for new books. It has no space for lengthy reviews of books which have been in the market. Only ADVANCE COPIES can claim a notice, and only books with "selling" qualities will be recommended. In doubtful cases, the remarks will be simply of a descriptive character.

Editors' Copies.

Publishers who can appreciate the importance of an accurate bibliographical record, should, to secure the same, deposit an early copy of each new book they issue, with statement of retail price. The TRADE CIRCULAR is the only paper which aims to give a prompt and complete record of American publications, and is the chief source of information, at home and abroad, for editors of literary and of trade papers, librarians, bookbuyers, and book-sellers.

The Educational Catalogue

"It is proper to call the attention of teachers, superintendents of education, and all other buyers of school-books, to the 'educational number' of the TRADE CIRCULAR and LITERARY BULLETIN. It begins with a very large and complete list of school-books published by American houses. Every branch of educational literature is treated with fulness, from 'Algebra' to 'Zoology.' Following this valuable list are thirty or forty pages of advertisements, which are themselves of considerable value as an index, and which supplement the list by adding many titles of school-books published abroad and sold here in the importers' stores. On the whole, in spite of the fact that some few of the smaller houses appear to have been careless about giving information to the compiler of this work, he has succeeded in getting together a mass of facts in regard to American educational literature such as has never before been gathered, and he has so arranged it as to make it perfectly easy of access."—Nation.

NOTICE.

To Educational Publishers.

In response to the request of booksellers, who desire to use the new

EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE,

for the purpose of making up their Fall orders, the Trade editions will be issued

EARLY IN JULY.

Publishers who care to have their works fully and correctly represented, will please address as early as ready, two copies of their

June Trade Lists

or corrected lists, with retail prices, for the season 1872-73, to the

EDITOR OF THE TRADE CIRCULAR,

712 Broadway.

For Particulars see pages 476 and 477.

ADVANCE BOOK-NOTES.

[This department is intended to include descriptive notices, from advance sheets, of all books of popular sale. Booksellers will thus be enabled to order knowingly and confidently on books likely to sell well in their localities, and to obtain such information as to the character of new publications as will "post" them for calling the attention of particular customers to books likely to suit their taste. Advance sheets for use in this department should be forwarded by publishers at earliest convenient date.—ED.]

Three Books of Song is the title of Mr. Longfellow's new volume, to be published the 25th inst., by James R. Osgood & Co. Book first contains a second series of "Tales of a Wayside Inn," which are no worse for having already seen the light, with the exception of "The Cobbler of Haguenau," in the Atlantic. A bit of this is very noteworthy:

"Our ingress into the world
 Was naked and bare;
 Our progress through the world
 No trouble and care;
 Our egress from the world
 Will be nobody knows where;
 But if we do well here
 We shall do well there;
 And I could tell you no more.
 Should I preach a whole year!"

The prelude, interludes, and conclusion are quite new and very beautiful, in Longfellow's most charming manner. The stories are exquisitely poetic versions of legends and tales from all climes. Book second contains the religious drama of "Judas Maccabæus," a rendering of the revolt of the Jews against King Antiochus, which includes many of the incidents given in the Apocrypha. The third book is made up of the translations to which Mr. Longfellow's muse lends herself so fittingly. They are from many languages, finely chosen and exquisitely rendered.

Paper Money the Root of Evil is the title of an examination, by Charles A. Mann, of the currency of the United States, with practical suggestions for restoring specie payments without robbing debtors, now in press by D. Appleton & Co. in a 12mo of 374 pages. The author really undertakes an elucidation of the whole subject of paper money, believing that a proper settlement of this question must precede, and will lead up to, free trade. He sees great advantages in a mixed currency, with convertible bank-notes, considering that it develops the circulation of capital, but says there has never been a time in this country when bank-notes have not intruded beyond their proper sphere. He claims that the issue of inconvertible "greenbacks" is but a method of debasing the currency, and challenges utterly the recent legal-tender decision of the Supreme Court.

No such exhaustive treatise on the entire question of currency has yet appeared, and the book demands the consideration of all financiers, capitalists, and political thinkers.

Smoke, one of the novels of Russia's greatest masters of fiction, Ivan S. Turgeneff, very well translated from the author's French version, by Wm. F. West, A.M., will be published very soon, by Holt & Williams, in neat 16mo. form. It is very remarkable for its freshness, dash, spirit, and sharp satire, and promises to be one of the most successful novels of the season. The scene is in Baden, and the story opens with a keen and clever satirical description of the society and customs of that great spa and gambling place. The plot is chiefly the entanglement of a young Russian in renewed love with his former fiancée, now married to a distinguished Russian general. Her passion and his own lead him into the depths of misery and despair, as well as to the heights of happiness, but finally the mesalliance is sundered, and he returns to his proper love. There are few novels so clever in characterization, and generally so sprightly and entertaining.

Practical Horseshoeing is the subject and title of a manual by Dr. G. Fleming, a leading English veterinary surgeon, soon to be published in a 12mo of 108 pp., with 29 illustrations, by D. Appleton & Co. It is a thorough and useful book, which every horse-owner and horse-shoer in the country ought to buy, and we look to a wide sale for it. That it is excellent, reliable, and authoritative is attested by the fact that it was selected out of forty essays submitted, as worthy of the first prize offered by the Scottish Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. It explains thoroughly the anatomy and physiology of the horse's foot, how to prepare the hoof, all about the shoe itself, the practice of shoeing, and as to winter shoeing, the shoeing of defective limbs, the general management of the horse's foot, and streets and roads. A bookseller ought to sell as many copies as there are intelligent farriers near him.

Of Station Life in New Zealand, by that very clever and sprightly writer, Lady Barker, whose stories have been very widely appreciated, an edition will shortly be published in this country by De Witt C. Lent & Co. It has been very popular in England, telling the story of civilized and uncivilized life in that far-off country most entertainingly. It is made up of just such letters as one delights to receive from a dear friend abroad, with graphic and accurate description, and no little humor, and is like enough to be quite popular for summer reading. The book has a colored frontispiece, and is a 16mo, pp. 238.

LITERARY AND TRADE GOSSIP.

NEW TARIFF ON BOOKS AND PRINTING PAPER.—On May 16, in the House of Representatives, Mr. Hoar offered a proviso exempting from the tariff of 12 1-2 cents a pound, all books, maps and charts imported specially for the use of any society incorporated for philosophical, literary or religious purposes exclusively, or for the encouragement of the fine arts, or for the library of any college, academy, or institution of learning, or for the use of the instructors. Mr. Holman moved to strike out the paragraph, and Mr. Kerr offered an amendment, inserting 10 cents instead of 12 1-2 cents a pound. Before a vote was taken upon these amendments, one offered by Mr. Garfield to admit all books twenty or more years old, either in old or new prints, free of duty, was adopted. Garfield said the present law in this particular was not as effective as was intended, as reprints of old books bearing a late date, even though the text remained unchanged, were made liable to the duty as new books by the decisions of the officers of the Treasury. Messrs. Holman & Kerr then withdrew their amendments, Holman offering a proviso exempting school-books, maps and charts used for common schools, and Bibles and Testaments from duty. This was rejected by 69 Yeas to 72 Nays. Messrs. Kerr & Holman renewed their first amendments; Kerr's was lost by a vote of 75 to 78, and Holman's by 45 to 79. Only one vote was taken upon the paragraph relating to unbound newspapers, magazines and periodicals. Mr. Kerr wanted to have the duty fixed at five instead of six cents a pound, but his amendment was rejected. Numerous amendments were offered to the last paragraph of the section, which fixed the tariff on sized printing paper at 28 per cent. ad valorem. On motion of Mr. Beck, the word "sized" was stricken out, and the duty made 20 per cent. instead of 28. This was the only one of the several propositions which was agreed to, the others generally being rejected by small majorities. The question then recurred upon a substitute for the entire paragraph which Mr. Dawes had offered. The substitute provided that on all printing paper 90 per cent. of the present duty should be levied, the vote being 84 Yeas to 79 Nays.

On May 17, on motion of Mr. Garfield, books printed in foreign languages and English books which have not been revised in twenty years were freed from duty.

Another important amendment agreed to was the one offered by Mr. Beck to authorize the payment of one-third of customs duties in legal tender notes. On this the vote was 94 to 62.

"THE PIRATED AMERICAN EDITION".—The following letter, addressed to the editor of the Publishers' Circular, London, refers to the above expression, used inadvertently by Mr. Longman, in one of his letters on International Copyright:

SIR: With reference to my use of the word "pirated," as applied to Her Majesty's "Our Life in the Highlands," printed in New York, I was not aware, at the time of using that form of expression, that the Messrs. Harper, of New York (for whom I have high respect), had paid £250 for the early sheets of that book. I regret that those gentlemen should have taken umbrage at my expression, which, having been placed in brackets, was thought to have removed the offensive application of the word. I trust, from the discussion on Copyright now going on in the United States, that before long that word will have become entirely obsolete. I certainly did not intend to apply the expression offensively to the Messrs. Harper. I am, Sir, yours obediently, THOS. LONGMAN.

ONE feature of Hurd & Houghton's forthcoming "Satchel Guide for Vacation Tourists in Europe" is unique; the addition not only of memoranda pages, but of expense account pages, so that the user of the book can dispense with any separate account book. This guide can be slipped into the pocket, but it is so useful, so thoroughly well digested, that it will not often go into the pocket, but stay in the hand. It is a handy compass, by which the traveller can steer safely through all the perils by the way in travelling over Europe.

THE Pulpit Publishing Company has begun, in Boston, the monthly publication of sermons by able preachers of the evangelical faith. The first number of The Boston Pulpit, dated May, contains a sermon by the Rev. E. B. Webb, D. D., entitled "Seeking the Lost." The design is to include forty-eight numbers in each volume, which will, when bound, make a full and valuable octavo volume. Mr. Rowland H. Allen, 117 Washington street, is the secretary of the Pulpit Publishing Company.

The yachting and boating communities are to have an organ in The Aquatic Monthly and Nautical Review, the first number of which is promised for this month. The editor is Mr. Charles A. Peverelly; the publishers, Cushing, Bardua & Co., and the price four dollars a year.

A BOOKSELLER, some years since, received an order for "2 sam bux." He puzzled his brain some time without understanding the meaning thereof, and returned it for an explanation. The writer was very much astonished that it could not be understood. "Why," said he, "it is as plain as day; 2 s a m, psalm, b u x, books." This explained the mystery.

The well-known popular class of cheap scientific treatises known as "Weale's Series," has recently been increased by the addition of several new ones, particularly "Maxton's Engineering Drawing," and "Harris & Noad's Magnetism," both being works of value.

The second part of the new and enlarged edition of Dr. Strattmann's "Dictionary of Old English," 1100-1500 A.D., has just appeared, and reaches from feald to live.

The twenty-seventh part of M. Littré's great French Dictionary has also been lately issued: it extends from souscrit to tendre.

The second part of the new French Antiquarian Quarterly, the Romania, is ready. We ask for an increased subscription for it in America, as it is a venture of its editors, who well deserve support.

The first part of Mr. T. Oswald Cockayne's Anglo-Saxon Lexicon is in a forward state of preparation. It will contain, by way of preface, an investigation into Anglo-Saxon and English vocalization, in which the author takes exception to some accepted theories of German glossarists.

THE NATURALISTS' AGENCY, Salem (Dodd & Mead, New York, agents), have issued a beautiful prospectus of "Maynard's Birds of Florida," a work which is to contain original descriptions of upwards of two hundred species, with notes upon their habits, etc., and with five large plates drawn and colored from nature by Helen S. Farley. It is to be issued in twelve parts, in 4to. Subscription price $10 in advance, or $1 a part, payable on delivery.

THE publishers of "Telegraph Cases," (a reprint of all cases relating to the liability of telegraph companies), wishing to make the collection as nearly complete as possible, beg to inquire if any person in possession of any unpublished case relating to this subject is willing to furnish such for this purpose. Reasonable charges for copies will be cheerfully paid. Communications should be addressed to H. O. Houghton & Co., Riverside Press, Cambridge, Mass.

MACMILLAN & Co. will shortly publish "The Oxford Bampton Lectures" for 1871. The subject is dissent in its relation to the Church of England, and the author, the Rev. G. H. Curteis, Principal of the Lichfield Theological Seminary.

A NEATLY got up pamphlet in the German language has just been issued by E. Steiger, 22 and 24 Frankfort street, New York. The subject-matter is of particular interest at the present day; and the title may be rendered in English, "The Kindergarten in America. Origin, character, significance, and educational means of Fröbel's system and its adaptation to American conditions. Briefly sketched for the use of parents, teachers, and lovers of children." The principles of the celebrated German educational Reformer, Friedrich Fröbel, have hitherto been only partially applied in this country, but enough has been achieved to cause them to be extensively and carefully studied with a view to their more general adaptation to America. These principles are now everywhere occupying the attention of thinking men engaged in education directly or indirectly, and they appeal to the affection and sound sense of parents in general. The pamphlet is therefore well-timed; and all conversant with German will find in it a very clear exposition of the system of education it aims at disseminating. It may be had gratis on application to the publisher.

E. STEIGER has also started a unique and most laudable enterprise, viz., the issue of a "German-American Library," which is to embrace the choicest literary productions of German-American authors. It is published in weekly numbers, in a neat 16mo, at 15 cents each; and in volumes at 50 cents in paper, or 75 cents in elegant cloth-binding. The first four volumes, which have just made their appearance, include R. Solger's successful novel, "Anton in Amerika," in 2 vols.; and Karl Dilthey's amusing stories and tales, illustrative of German life in America, also in 2 vols. Vols. 5-8 are to contain the much admired novels and tales of Friedrich Lexow, and of Rudolph Lexow, the well-known editor of the best German weekly published in the United States. The publisher states that he already has collected so much valuable material that he is enabled to promise a large number of interesting volumes, forming a collection which, as the first embodiment of German literature born on American soil, should find a place in every German-American household, and in the library of every one who is familiar with the German language and interested in German life and literature. The price is so low that every one is enabled to become subscriber. Each volume, however, is sold separately, and subscriptions may be stopped with any number. The enterprise certainly deserves all encouragement.

THE BIRMINGHAM SHAKESPEARE MEMORIAL LIBRARY.—We have just received from the Free Libraries Committee, Birmingham, Eng., the first part of the catalogue of the above library. It is issued in order that the subscribers and others interested may see to what extent the English editions have already been secured, and also to show how many are still wanted. The table, pp. 29-36, contains a considerable number of editions which are not named in any previous bibliography of Shakespeare, and it is probable that many more exist. In American and in colonial editions the library is very poor; it is hoped that the issue and circulation of this list may lead to the offer, either as gifts or for sale, of the sets wanting. Every possessor of Shakespeareana, inclined to dispose of some of his duplicates or rare editions, will do well to send for a copy of this catalogue, which itself is a valuable addition to any Shakespeare library. The catalogue, compiled by J. D. Mullins, is an admirable piece of bibliography. The titles are given verbatim in full, and those of the older or of rare editions accompanied by clear descriptions. Most valuable for reference, to show to the collector at a glance what additions are missing in his collection, is the chronological and typographical table of English editions, which at the same time serves as index to description of those in the Birmingham Library, and to those which are wanted, the latter being marked with an asterisk. The library, founded April 23, 1864, the Tercentenary of Shakespeare's birth, now (April, 1872) contains 4,012 vols., of which the English number 2,625; French, 166; German, 995; Bohemian, 33; Danish, 47; Dutch, 52; Frisian, 2; Greek (modern), 2; Hungarian, 12; Italian, 41; Polish, 5; Russian, 6; Spanish, 2; Swedish, 22; Wallachian, 1; Welsh, 1.

E. H. SEARS, the author of the "Heart of Christ," the new book which is making quite a stir in theological circles, is the minister of a small Unitarian Society in Weston. He is a tall, ungainly man, with high cheek-bones, and looks as though his father was second-cousin to an Indian. But he is an able thinker and good scholar, of about sixty years, a graduate of Union College, which has never mustered courage to give him an honorary degree—a graceful and forcible writer, and quite the most pertinacious and influential man in the extreme evangelical wing of the Unitarian body. In fact he seems to out-orthodox the Orthodox in some respects, and hesitates to accept their pressing invitations to enter their folds because he is not quite sure but the heresy he would find there is more insidious and undermining than that he has and hates where he is. Mr. Sears has written a suggestive book on "Regeneration," and a tale founded on Colonial times; but he is best known by his "Athanasia, or Foregleams of Immortality," a beautifully written book giving a somewhat fanciful theory of Christ's resurrection.—Golden Age.

MCCLINTOCK & STRONG'S CYCLOPÆDIA, vol. 4. (Harper & Bros.) The same plan has been maintained in this as in the preceding volumes, and is to be carried out in the remainder of the work, which will be issued as rapidly as the mechanical part can be well executed. Throughout this work it has been the aim of the editors to incorporate into it all the suitable matter found in similar works, especially in the great recent dictionaries edited by Aschbach, Fairbairn, Herzog, Hoefer, Kitto, Smith, Wetzer and Welte, and Winer, and these names have been prefixed or appended to portions so cited. If this has in any case been omitted, it has been by oversight. At the same time, it is due to the authors of those works to state that the matter borrowed from them has rarely been used without large modifications and important additions. Full one-half of the matter in this Cyclopædia is wholly new, and much of the rest is entirely remodelled in form and expression, while many articles contained in it are not represented in any similar work hitherto published. This Cyclopædia has not been undertaken, written, or published in the interest of any sect or party. Hence the contributors have been selected from all branches of the Church, and their statements have been left untrammelled by sectarian dictation.

MR. KROEGER writes his excellent translations of Fichte for the "Journal of Speculative Philosophy" in his cell. His offence was almost entirely technical, and he is soon to be pardoned, we are happy to learn.

EDITORSHIP OF THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—There have been three editors of our popular monthly since its beginning, in November, 1857. James Russell Lowell was the first, and continued at the helm until 1861, when James T. Fields assumed the editorship and kept it until 1871, when he resigned and William D. Howells was installed, and now fills the responsible office with ability and energy.

PREVIOUS to the fire there were eight large houses engaged in the religious book trade in Chicago. W. G. Holmes, now at 194 West Madison street, is said to have had the largest stock of theological and Sunday-school books in the country. The total stock of the eight houses at the time of the fire amounted in value, probably, to $250,000, and the aggregate yearly sales reached, it is estimated, about $500,000.

ATLANTIC CABLE BUSINESS.—On and after May 1, 1872, the ten word minimum on business between all W. Union offices and points in Great Britain and Ireland will be abolished. The tariff will thereafter be computed by multiplying the number of words, whether more or less than ten, by one-tenth of the present rate for ten words (or by the present rate for additional words). The change does not apply on business destined for points beyond England.

THE N. Y. Mercantile Library Reading-room will be open for the use of members on Sundays, from one to nine P. M. The vote of the members was so overwhelmingly (1,200 out of 1,400) in the affirmative on the Sunday question that the Clinton Hall Association cheerfully granted consent to the opening of the building.

MR. JAMES D. REED has retired from the editorial chair of The Journal of the Telegraph, and will be succeeded by Mr. Fred. J. Grace.

VICTOR HUGO's new poem, "l'Année Terrible," says the Paris correspondent of the Mail, will doubtless create a great sensation in literary circles, for its advent has been impatiently awaited since the Month of March. The first page of the work bears the following dedication: "A Paris, Capitale des Peuples," and in fact, Paris is the hero of the work, which is divided into twelve canti, corresponding with the twelve months of the year, from August, 1870, to July, 1871. After having preluded in a prologue, entitled "Le Plebiscite," the poet passes in review all the important events of the "terrible year."

A collection of fifty of the best drawings of Victor Hugo (who is not only an author but an artist) is shortly to be published in the form of an album. Hugo's drawings are startling in their conception, and among the subjects are man strange, weird moonlight scenes, with many-towered castles, such as one might see in dreams, and of a style of architecture peculiar and original.

LEE & SHEPARD have published in one volume, "Principles of Political Economy, with some of their Applications to Social Philosophy," by John Stuart Mill. This is called "The People's Edition," and is a reprint of the sixth octavo edition in two volumes. The price is only about a quarter of the other. The volume is compactly and clearly printed. To general readers it has this particular merit, that all the extracts and most phrases in foreign languages have been translated into English. It is almost needless to speak of the value of this work itself, as it has been recognized everywhere as one of the ablest productions of one of the strongest, clearest and most comprehensive of English thinkers.

GEO. ROUTLEDGE & SONS, says the Golden Age, have put all travellers under obligation by publishing Augustus J. C. Hare's "Walks in Rome," in a handsome volume of nearly seven hundred pages. It contains all the information that anybody may need, with all the poetry and sentiment that the most matter-of-fact and stupid may desire. Indeed it is so complete and so admirable in its descriptions, and so filled with the best things said by the best travellers, that it almost obviates the necessity of going to Rome. Read this book and Story's "Roba di Roma," and with a collection of photographs, one may learn more of the Holy City than half the people who cross the ocean to see it.

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN.—The annual report of the Book Committee contains the following statements :

The Commission appointed by the last General Conference, in the spring of 1869, purchased a property on the corner of Broadway and Eleventh street, at a cost of $900,000, three-fourths of which is owned by the Book Concern, and cost, including $42,904 13 for finishing and fitting up for use, $717,904 13. The other one-fourth is owned by the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and cost, when completed and ready for use $232,452 49, making the total cost of the building and lots $950,356 62. After reserving sufficient space for Book Concern, Missionary Society, and other connectional purposes—such as rooms for wholesaling and retailing books and periodicals, mailing department, library room, Bishops' room, Board room or chapel, agents', editors', and missionaries secretaries' offices, etc.—there remained a large portion of the building unoccupied for Church or benevolent purposes, which is rented to several parties for an annual rent of $72,700, which will pay the interest at seven per cent. per annum on the whole cost of the property, and leave a balance of $6,175 04 toward paying the taxes and insurance. By the said Commission the agents were authorized to issue bonds for $500,600, payable after three years, and due in fifteen years from June 1, 1869, for part payment of the above-named property. These bonds were all taken at par and accrued interest, without paying a single dollar for advertising or brokerage. The real estate at No. 200 Mulberry street, and Mott street, is used for manufacturing purposes, with the exception of a small portion, which is rented for $1,800 per annum. The building erected for a depository at Pittsburgh, Pa., was finished early in 1869, and has proved a profitable investment. Our real estate at San Francisco, Cal., has risen in value since its purchase, and answers well the purpose for which it was designed.

The sales for the four years ending November 30, 1871, have been as follows :

For 1868.....	$619,473 27	For 1871.....	624,530 08
For 1869.....	594,191 25
For 1870.....	588,645 82	Total.....	$2,426,840 42

The profits for the corresponding years have been as follows :

1868—	$134,748 51, less $51,739 48, which by a clerical mishap was not credited to the profits of 1867, and got into the profits of 1868.....	$83,009 03
1869.....		60,954 17
1870—	$75,382 23, less $7,301 18, which was received from the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which had been charged to profit and loss.....	68,081 05
1871—	$91,009 76, less $27,913 84, which was also received from said Missionary Society.....	63,095 92

Net earnings for the four years.....$275,140 17

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.—The annual report contains the following statements : Receipts for the year, in donations and legacies, $126,833 64; sales, $410,903 75—making, with balance in the treasury, $538,132 06; expended in manufacturing books and tracts, $225,000 79; manufacturing and issuing periodicals, $133,381 94; colporteurs, agencies and depositories, $107,211 03; district secretaries, $11,251 30; appropriations for foreign and pagan lands, $7,000; investment on account of the George Wood fund, $3,487 50; all other expenses, as by the Treasurer's report, $49,862 19. Total, $537,194 75. Balance in treasury, $937 31. During the year 263 colporteurs, including 42 students from 19 colleges and theological seminaries, labored in 34 States and Territories and in the adjoining British provinces.

THE whole number of new publications issued from the Tract House during the year was 138, of which 47 were volumes. The Society is now issuing regularly six periodicals—the American Messenger, the Amerikanischer Botschafter, the Child's Paper, and the Morning Light monthlies; and the Illustrated Christian Weekly, and the Deutscher Volksfreund, illustrated weeklies. The average monthly circulation of the American Messenger for the year has been 157,667 copies; of the Child's Paper, 320,666 copies; of the Botschafter 40,708 copies; of the Morning Light, 41,000 copies; total of all four, 560,041.

During the year, publications for circulation among the destitute, including annuities, have been granted, amounting to $49,679 51, or nearly seventy-five million pages.

AMERICAN TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—The annual report contains the following statements :

Receipts.—For subscriptions to the Advocate and Banner, $17,042 99; for books, tracts, badges, etc., $25,773 55; making total receipts, exclusive of donations, $42,916 54. During the last twelve months we re-printed 135,000 four-page, 42,000 eight-page, and 8,000 twelve-page tracts, making a total of pages of tracts, 3,364,000; total pages of Advocate, 1,850,440; total pages of Banner, 6,184,000; total pages of books and pamphlets, 13,879,033; making a total of pages printed last year, 25,277,478; total pages printed since the organization of the Society, 132,797,178. Receipts for publication, $42,616 54; donations, memberships, etc., $6,432 25; total receipts, $49,348 79; total expenses, $49,264 62.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.—The fifty-sixth annual report contains the following statements :

The receipts for the year were $689,923 47, including $361,274 64 from publications, $39,510 84 from rents, $140,212 49 from legacies, $137,474 31 from donations, and $11,451 19 from sundry items. The payments have been $629,379 88. The sum necessary to meet the outstanding engagements of the society is estimated at $80,000. Volumes printed at the Bible House, 1,030,255; purchased abroad, 201,597; issued, 1,100,871, in sixty languages; volumes issued during fifty-six years, 28,780,969; gratuitous expenditures during the year, $242,727 02; families supplied with Bibles, 73,732; persons, in addition, 17,391; schools, 1,835.

Seven sets of new electrotype plates have been made at the Bible House; five sets for the Arabic Scriptures are in progress at Beyrout, and one set at Constantinople.

The Methodist Book Concern at Nashville, Tenn., is said to be doing a business of about $1,000 a day. The building recently burned, causing a loss of $25,000, is to be rebuilt at a cost of $50,000. Its capital is over $200,000 without incumbrance.

Zacharias Topelius.

From the N. Y. Tribune.

TOPELIUS is a name as yet new to our country, but old with a fully-matured fame in his own, a name which we hear for the first time, and which falls as an empty sound, but which in Northern ears is fully freighted with learning, poetic inspiration, and what, perhaps, may be best called national genius—the power of interpreting through lyric or prose writings the very spirit of his country, its external life with its varied phases, its hidden life which moulds and directs the outer. Topelius stands as such an exponent; he is so essentially a native of his land—Finland: so imbued with its characteristics, so closely allied to it in his very being, that he breathes its language in all that he writes, through the silent but wonderfully analogous life of nature, whose utterances are unheard, yet tell the whole story of human struggle, woe, longing, and rapture, by means of the symbolism of flood and hillside, forests, eternal snow, and the midnight splendor of the firmament; the poetic soul catches the import, being so truly a child of nature, that it seems as though the mother-heart had confided its secrets to him; through the primitive life of the peasantry, the first offspring of the soil, in which may be found the sources of the mighty torrents of thought, feeling, passion, ambition, which culminate among the great and high-born; through the evolutions of dynasties, the glittering changes of court-life, the world-renowned deeds of illustrious personages, the pagantry, horror, heroism, and stupendous effects which turn the tide of nations, and which are all summed up in that one word—history.

Topelius is as much at home in the peasant hut as in the palace, in the wilderness as in the throng, in the weird mysticism which clings to the North, and lends a magic significance to the most trifling incident, as in the sharp-edged reality which admits of no supernatural agency. All is truthful, vivid, actual to those senses which perceive through the medium of written words. It is this element of genuineness which gives the value to Topelius's historical romances. Integrity of mind, accuracy of perception, and an imagination which is never led astray, make his portrayals real, and being real, inestimable. It is these qualities which render him an exquisite poet, responsive to every pulsation of nature, an inimitable writer for children, for he seems to divine just how the child thinks, and talks, and acts, and never puts his grown-up ways upon the little ones, and a reliable historian, who never perverts facts to reach a desired aim, but who finds embodied in the actual wants and characters of which he treats the amplest material for interest, plot, romance, and strange out-workings of destiny. All these things, which are supposed to be invented by fiction, are inherent in life itself, and a period so eventful, so important as that comprised in the "Surgeon's Stories" needs no fertile imagination to enhance its interest.

This series is called Topelius's greatest work. The first begins with the hero king, Gustave Adolf, and the close of his reign; the next is in the time of his daughter, Queen Christina; and, finally, we come to the brilliant reign of Gustave III., under which literature and the fine arts prospered as never before in Sweden.

Topelius is singularly cool and impartial in judgment, calm and even in his style, never straining after effect, but allowing it to follow as a natural result of exciting causes. He does not goad or lacerate his readers, but the emotions awakened are perfectly spontaneous and inevitable under the circumstances.

As an author, Topelius's rank abroad entitles him to recognition here, and his works are valuable to us as describing historical events of which we know but little, and a people of whom we have scarcely heard more than the name. Through these we shall learn that Finland possesses a culture, genius, and literature which place her in the foremost rank among civilized nations, albeit she has been almost hidden in her northern nook, and overshadowed by the colossal power that holds her subject.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

In stating any change, dealers will please enclose their business card, or give a detailed account of the more prominent features of their business. No charge for insertion.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—The "Woman's Pacific Publishing Company" has recently been incorporated, in the city of San Francisco, Cal. The company starts out with a capital of $25,000, and proposes to carry on the business of printing of all kinds, bookbinding and engraving, and to deal in books, newspapers, and periodicals. It is an enterprise started entirely by a number of women.

TORONTO, CANADA.—The stock of the late "Canadian News and Publishing Co." came recently to the hammer. The bulk of the publications and reprints of the late firm passed into the hands of Mr. Wm. Warwick, Mr. A. S. Irving, and Messrs. Adam, Stevenson & Co.

Immoral Literature.

From the Albany Law Journal.

THE House bill for the suppression of obscene literature in the District of Columbia is now in the hands of the Judiciary Committee, and deserves all the attention it will receive. The bill prohibits either the sale or the giving away of any book or other object of an indecent or immoral nature, or any article for causing abortion, or any advertisement of the same. Another section forbids the conveying of the same articles by post, or dropping any such in a letter-box. The penalty for breach of the statute is imprisonment for not more than one year, or a fine of not more than $1,000. All articles seized under the act are to be destroyed.

A similar measure was passed in England many years ago, and is known as "Lord Campbell's Act." Although he was not very famous in the literary or legislative world, yet he was a very useful law compiler, and a deserving aspirant to laurels from Parnassus, as witness his "Lives of the Lord Chancellors of England." He was the means of passing the first statute in England for giving certain surviving relatives of persons killed by negligence on railways rights of action against the delinquent companies, contrary to the common-law maxim, actio personalis moritur cum persona. Our jurisprudence has adopted his views on this latter question, and is now for indorsing his moral code for the District of Columbia.

At common law, however, and independently of any positive statute, any act of public indecency is a misdemeanor, punishable with fine and imprisonment. It seems better, therefore, that the present bill, which is likely soon to be copied in all States whose laws are still defective on the point, should merely declare in general terms what the common law is. Else, if public prosecutors are led to believe that a statute is the sole foundation of this jurisprudence, they may frame indictments under the act, and not at common law. The scope of the act will soon become known to those threatened with its provisions and penalties. These persons, therefore, will try to evade the statutory penalty. But, if the act is declared to be in affirmance of the common-law rule, that all attempts to corrupt morals are misdemeanors, this will leave the vendors of these unhallowed articles without any refuge. Any reform of the measures on this point already passed by any of the States ought to provide a similar declaration. Else, instead of checking vice, it may be encouraged.

The advertisements and assignments paraded in some soi-disant respectable newspapers are eminently entitled to a perusal by the district attorney. All such advertisements are the incipient causes of abortion. Some, no doubt, may be harmless. But, lest there should be any means of escape left to our Rozensweigs, the construction of the advertisement should be left to the jury as a question of fact.

INKSTAND. (No. 125,973, April 23.)—It is the object of this improvement to produce an inkstand from which, when tipped over, the ink will not be liable to spill, and in which the ink is at all times kept as far as possible from exposure to the atmosphere, while it is always available for use, the insertion of the pen in the ink-tube causing the ink to rise and meet the pen.

A WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN

OLIVE LOGAN'S NEW BOOK.

In Press. Ready June 15.

Price $1.50.

"GET THEE BEHIND ME, SATAN."

A Home-Born Book of Home Truths.

By OLIVE LOGAN—MRS. WIRT SIKES.

"Amazed and shocked," writes the author to the publishers, "at the daring effrontery of women in the work of demoralization and social ruin, I have almost been forced by my protesting spirit to write this book, and say what it were wicked to leave longer unsaid regarding the Free Love, Free Marriage, Free Divorce, and Free Lives principles which clearly it is the aim of certain men and women to engraft upon the Woman's Movement."

This gives the key-note to the volume. Throwing into it all her remarkable powers of expression, and inspired with the zeal of an outraged sense of right, the author not only strips the mask from these pretended Reformers, but elaborates her work into a most beautiful and impressive series of chapters on

HOME AND ITS INFLUENCES;

On Girlhood, Bellehood, Young Wifehood, Motherhood, and Woman's Life Relations

drawing upon her own wide social experience in Europe and America for illustrations of a novel and apposite character. Considering the Theme of the Book, the Personality of its Treatment, and the Author's eminence, the volume will be

The Literary Sensation of the Summer, and will excite even more remark from the Press than greeted F. De Witt Talmage's brilliant and incisive "Abominations of Modern Society."

Its Sale will be Immense, for which we wish the Trade to be prepared by giving liberal advance orders.

 The 7th edition of

The Abominations of Modern Society,

By F. DE WITT TALMAGE, is now in press. The sale which this book is now having is not a matter of surprise when we consider its intensely interesting nature. No book for ten years has told more truth, or given more cause for remark. It has been the great success of the year. Book dealers should keep it constantly on hand.

TO ALL WHO HAVE Anything to Sell to Schools.

In response to the request of Booksellers who desire to use the new EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE for the purpose of making up their Fall orders, the TRADE editions will be issued this year early in July, and will immediately be followed by the numerous BULLETIN editions. The EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE will contain an entirely new RETAIL PRICE LIST of all School Books published or for sale in the United States, compiled from the latest Trade Lists, and so arranged that in a moment information can be obtained regarding the Title, Price, and Publisher's Name, of any one of the principal books in any branch of American Educational Literature.

Editions being bought and circulated only by booksellers who deal in school books and articles used in schools, this catalogue will be unquestionably the best advertising medium for publishers of school books and school furniture.

As the immense material only admits of the insertion of the titles in the most condensed shape, publishers may find it to their advantage to present, elsewhere in the same number, an advertisement giving their own account of their books, and showing, at one glance, the entire range of their publications, at the same time facilitating the making up of orders, both to dealers and teachers. Otherwise their books will, by the system of cataloguing, necessarily appear scattered through the whole number.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES.

I.—IT IS PERMANENT. Any teacher or bookseller will have in the proposed pamphlet so complete a manual of reference as has never before been offered to the educational public, and consequently he will be apt to keep it.

II.—IT IS THOROUGH. An ordinary catalogue can be made to reach principals, but it is hard to get it before teachers of specialties, private tutors, and governesses. Their names are often not printed on any catalogues or advertisements, and yet it is their opinion, as often as that of the principal, which decides the introduction of a book. The LITERARY BULLETIN is not only of permanent interest to them, but reaches them more surely than any other publication. Private tutors and governesses, whether principals or not, are always known to the retailers of books, and leading retailers all over the country circulate the BULLETIN.

III.—IT IS THE CHEAPEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

The Educational Catalogue goes to the Best Customers of the Best Booksellers!

The main value of the Educational Catalogue consists in the large and judicious circulation given to it, in nearly all the States, by dealers who buy editions for the purpose of pushing school books and school materials in the districts they alone can control. Advertisements, however, are also inserted in the Trade editions, being, 1, the TRADE CIRCULAR edition, for subscribers, and, 2, a special edition supplied in single copies to non-subscribers. Both editions will be used for reference by the entire Trade throughout the year. To what extent this Catalogue is used by the Trade is illustrated by the fact that up to date there still is a constant demand for last year's issue.

Thus, two ends are obtained—an advertisement is brought to the notice of the bookseller, and then, through his special efforts and expense, to teachers and schools.

Terms of Advertising in all Editions of the Educational Catalogue.

HALF-PAGE,	-	-	-	45 00	EIGHTH-PAGE,	-	15 00

Publishers who have not yet sent in their retail price lists will please mail, at once, two copies to the EDITOR OF THE TRADE CIRCULAR, 712 Broadway, N. Y., to whom all communications should be addressed.

Advertisements, also Announcements of forthcoming School Books, must be received by July 1st.

To Dealers in School Books

AND

SCHOOL MATERIALS.

The Educational Number of the LITERARY BULLETIN, for the Fall Term, will be issued in July, and will contain an entirely new and complete Classified Reference List of School-Books, with retail prices for 1872-3.

The List will be arranged as in the number of last summer, according to special branches; such as Algebra, Arithmetic, Astronomy, Composition, Dictionaries, French, Geography, German, Greek, History, Latin, Philosophy—Natural and Mental, Primers, Readers, etc., etc. Thus, information on any branch can be obtained at a glance.

The names of the Publishers will be indicated by initials, to which a separate key will be supplied for the special use of Dealers.

The Educational Number, published last summer, was used as a Catalogue, and circulated by most of the leading firms, to the extent of over 40,000 copies; and, long after it was out of print, inquiries for it were received from all quarters. The experience gained from that result will make the forthcoming BULLETIN superior to any guide to educational literature ever published for the use of American Booksellers and Teachers.

In making up special orders for the Educational Number, Booksellers should bear in mind that it possesses more than temporary value, and will be called for during the whole year.

TERMS FOR EDITIONS TO NON-SUBSCRIBERS.

Regular Subscribers to the LITERARY BULLETIN will be supplied at the usual rates.

WITH SOLE IMPRINT OF BOOK-DEALER, AND STITCHED.

100 Copies.....$5.00 | 1,000 Copies.....$40.00

We hold the last page subject to such advertisement as may be ordered by the dealer, charging for it the mere cost of stereotyping (averaging $4.60).

Mode of shipping must be stated when ordering the BULLETIN.

NOTICE.

As numerous orders for editions were received, last summer, after the issue of the Educational number, we again call attention to the necessity of being in possession of all orders on or before June 25th. We must be able to determine on the quantity of the paper that may be required for printing, at least two weeks before going to press.

In order to avoid unnecessary correspondence, we beg to say that, in justice to our advertisers, we must decline printing any editions "without advertisements." It is mainly owing to the support of advertisers that the "Bulletin" can be compiled and printed at the low rates at which it is offered to the Trade. As, however, no wholesale price advertisements are accepted, the additional lists of publishers and manufacturers cannot possibly depreciate the value of the paper, but, on the contrary, will secure to the dealer additional chances for sales.

All communications concerning the BULLETIN should be addressed to F. LEYPOLDT, Publisher 712 Broadway, New York.

☞ Special orders for the Educational Number only, should be designated "Educational only," as all BULLETIN orders are in force till countermanded.

☞ Cash remittance must invariably accompany each order.
All orders will be filled according to their dates.

A STARTLING BOOK.

NETHER SIDE NEW YORK;

OR, THE

CRIME, POVERTY, AND VICE

THE GREAT METROPOLIS.

By Edward Crapsey.

One Volume, 8vo. Paper.	Price	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	$1.00
" " Cloth.	"	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1.75

A portion only of this remarkable book has appeared in the pages of "The Galaxy;" but that which has appeared has attracted the attention of the leading papers all over the country. This book, in its complete form, will be one of wonderful interest, not only to the thoughtful reader, for its facts and figures may be relied on, but also to those who read from mere excitement, and wish to know the secrets of the dens of vice and misery with which our great metropolis is so plentifully supplied.

The New York "Times" says of it: "It enables us to understand the condition of a life unlike our own, and to determine in our own minds what allowances and palliation may be made for those unhappy beings whose misery excites compassion, while their crimes provoke abhorrence. These are questions in which humanity is deeply interested, and Mr. CRAPSEY has labored to solve them for the welfare of society."

The New York "Evening Post" says of the author, in one of its notices: "Mr. EDWARD CRAPSEY seems to have made the dangerous classes of New York a special study, and with a success equal to that of Horace Mayhew in his observations of London pauper life."

The "Pittsburg Commercial" declares: "The author is rendering useful service to society in these exposures."

NORTHERN LANDS; or, Young America in Russia and Prussia. By OLIVER OPTIC. 16mo. Illustrated. $1.50.

Judged by its sale, this is the most popular of all of Oliver Optic's books.

"Carrying his schoolship along with him, he tells the story of his adventures, intermingling instruction in history and geography, as a pill is disguised in Shaker apple-sauce, that compound being wholly palatable as well as salutary."—Lowell Courier.

MONROE'S HUMOROUS READINGS. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50.

"Just what is wanted. A book which is a collection of humorous, yet dignified and pure reading. A book of 316 pages, which will be a favorite in those families who do not desire to send their children out from home for the fun which they must have and will have, even if they have to go out for it."—Christian Advocate.

MONROE'S MISCELLANEOUS READINGS. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50.

"Prof. L. B. Monroe is a teacher of elocution and a public reader. His own wants, and the growing popularity of public and private recitations, called for the series of volumes of which this is the second.
